A group of five people, mostly women, are posing on a bridge with the New York City skyline in the background. They are all smiling and waving. The woman in the foreground is wearing a black jacket, a blue and white patterned scarf, and sunglasses. She has her hair in a bun and is waving with both hands. The other people are also smiling and waving. The background shows the Manhattan skyline with several tall buildings and a bridge structure.

Multicultural Lifestyle

A large, dense crowd of people, primarily men, are shown from the chest up. They are wearing red and yellow clothing, which are the colors of the Belgian national football team. Many are holding up long red scarves with yellow text that reads 'BELGIUM' or 'BELGIAN DEVILS'. Some are also holding small red and yellow flags. The crowd appears to be at a stadium or a large outdoor event, and the overall atmosphere is one of intense celebration and support for the national team.

Tons of festivals and events!

I really want to try this! What should I do?
