Dear Sir or Madam,

we are very proud to inform you that ŠENT - Slovenian Association for Mental Health won a special ULYSSES prize given by World Tourism Organization UNWTO for innovations in non-governmental organizations. UNWTO has awarded the PREMIKI project for the Development of accessible tourism in Slovenia.

ŠENT has developed the field of accessible tourism since 2006 and the PREMIKI project is a result of four different international projects in the field of accessible tourism: projects NETMEN, E.T, ITTI and TURAG4ALL.

At this occasion we would like to express our gratitude for cooperation on the development and implementation of the project to all project partners: Katolische Aktion, NTA National Tourist Association, Paraplegics Association of Slovenia, TANDEM Social and Integrated Cooperative, CENTRIA R&D (Central Ostrobothnia University of Applied Sciences), CVT SBIE Centre of Vocational training, Ministry of Labour, family and social affairs of Republic of Slovenia – Directorate for Disabled, Ministry of the economy of Republic of Slovenia – Directorate for Tourism, ENAT European Network for Accessible Tourism and to financial support of the following programmes: Interreg IIIA Slovenia-Austria 2000-2006, EEA and Norway Grants, Leonardo da Vinci -Transfer of Innovation 2009, European Social Found, National Budget of Republic of Slovenia.

Results of the projects are visible in the Premiki Institute which is a social enterprise that tries to develop, promote and make tourism in Slovenia more accessible. The Ulysses award is a great recognition of our work and at the same time also a big stimulation to continue working in this field.

The award does not merely recognize successful projects, it also recognizes innovative approaches in non-governmental sector through which ŠENT tries to find sustainable solutions in its environment, and contributes to the development of social economy and entrepreneurship where we try to follow the principles and values of community care, non-discrimination and respect.

With respect,

Prepared by:
